

2008 Faculty Development Grants

CSW IS PLEASED TO ANNOUNCE THE RECIPIENTS AND THEIR PROJECTS

JUNIOR FACULTY RESEARCH DEVELOPMENT GRANTS

Andrea Goldman, Assistant Professor, Department of History, The Staging of Urban Culture in Beijing, 1770-1900

Kerri Johnson, Assistant Professor, Department of Communication Studies, Studies on the Social and Contextual Circumstances that Prompt Changes in the Expression of Gendered Cues

Miriam Laugesen, Assistant Professor in Residence, School of Public Health-Health Services, The Politics of State Policies on the Human Papillomavirus (HPV) Vaccine

Kendra Willson, Assistant Professor in Residence, Scandinavian Section, Name Law and Gender in Iceland

FACULTY RESEARCH COMPLETION GRANTS

Patricia Greenfield, Professor, Department of Psychology, Social Change and Shifting Women's Roles in a Maya Community

Martie Haselton, Associate Professor, Department of Communication Studies/Department of Psychology, Changes in Women's Sexuality over the Menstrual Cycle: Examinations in Diverse Samples Spanning Geographic Regions and Variations in Sexual Orientation

Rachel Lee, Associate Professor, Department of English/Department of Women's Studies, The Exquisite Corpse of Asian America

Denise Mann, Assistant Professor, Department of Film, TV, Digital Media, Gender and Marketing in the Post-network Era, an Ethnographic Analysis of the TV Workplace in the Age of Wikinomics

FACULTY RESEARCH SEED GRANTS

Gil Hochberg, Assistant Professor, Department of Comparative Literature, Queer Politics and the Question of Palestine

Susanne Lohmann, Professor, Department of Political Science, Men, Women, and Universal Higher Education

Saloni Mathur, Assistant Professor, Department of Art History, Ray Eames and India

Mona Simpson, Professor, Department of English, The American Cousins (novel)

Lois Takahashi, Associate Professor, School of Public Affairs/Urban Planning, Patriarchy/Matriarchy Versus Blood Quantum: Cultural Significance as Evidenced in Hawaii Land Commission Grants

Victoria Vesna, Professor, Department of Design Media Arts, Science Games for Girls: NANO BIO_BODS

For more information on their projects or on the grants program, visit our website: http://www.csw.ucla.edu/faculty_funding.html